Eczema is one of the most common skin problems, affecting up to 20% of some populations. It is most common in children aged between 0-5 years. We know from experience how frustrating and upsetting it can be when your child has eczema. The main symptom of eczema is itching. The unrelenting desire to scratch can often damage your child's skin. This can lead to further irritation and increases the risk of infection (known as the itch-scratch cycle).

Our Shruggi protects your child's skin from the damage caused by scratching, therefore helping you to manage your child's eczema. Eczema can be distressing for children during the day and settling at night-time can be even more frustrating without daytime distractions. With Max & Mimi, our two itchy little monkeys, we want to help parents manage their child's eczema in a fun and easy way!

Testimonials

"For kids with eczema, the Shruggi from Itchy little monkeys is a really practical and easy-to-use product. Unlike other scratch mittens that can be removed easily by the child themselves, the Shruggi cannot, but it is so easy for the parent to put on. I can see the Shruggi being used to compliment standard clinical treatments for kids with eczema"

– Dr Peter Greally, Paediatric Consultant

"The concept of the Shruggi and the storybook is a great idea – I can see this being of real benefit to kids with skin conditions such as eczema"

– C Blake, Clinical Nurse Specialist, Dermatology

"Wish I came across this product sooner, my daughter's skin has finally had a chance to heal and we haven't used steroid cream in months"

– Elaine, Mum

"Your Shruggi has been a lifesaver for us. We had our first proper night sleep in 2 years"

– Stephen, Dad
